His dramatic color images of the Arch and downtown St. Louis have been distributed by the National Park Service and published in The Story of the Gateway Arch and in St. Louis: For the Record. His work is included in corporate and private collections.

He is a graduate of Southern Illinois University-Carbondale with a degree in photography.

He played the trombone in the U.S. Navy Jazz Band and continues to enjoy playing as an avocation.

For the past six years he has been exploring the creative use of Adobe Photoshop. He will be hosting a workshop Saturday morning, April 7, from 9 a.m. to noon during which he will show his work and demonstrate the use of Photoshop.

About this Show.....

In 1994 the West Texas Photographic Society of Lubbock chose to sponsor the only open show at the time in Lubbock, encouraging all area photographers to share their work with the community. Although the show is juried and awards are made, the idea of competition should be secondary to the opportunity to exhibit. Photographers should choose their best three images and present them in such a way as to enhance the image.

About WTPSL...

A small group of photographers on the South Plains organized to sponsor this show and to enjoy photography as a creative medium. Annual dues are $20.

Pick up and Liability ....

The WTPSL will take all reasonable precautions to protect all works of art presented at the show. However, the artist must assume all risks for any damage or loss.

We strongly urge you to pick up your work April 27.
